

When extreme resilience

it's CASAN

Your compact professional allrounder for industrial cutting

The CASAN 200 is extremely tough and thus offers safety during production. There are numerous options to integrate the CASAN 200 into production lines. Various sensors ensure a precise cutting pattern for strips, cubes and rasps. Together with the automatic pressure regulation, the cheese is processed in a gentle and energy-saving way. The open design allows easy accessibility and thus hygiene down to the last detail. Cutting results that set standards.
